

FROM FARM TO FACTORY

The story of peanut butter begins at a peanut farm. Peanuts are planted in the spring. They grow underground. They are harvested in the fall.

6

These rows of peanut plants are growing in Australia.

THINK!

Peanuts are just one kind of food that grows underground. Can you think of any other foods that grow underground? Hint: another food that grows underground is often eaten mashed or baked.